OPENAITO ACCELERATE RELEASE OF SOME PRODUCTS

Bruised Big Tech welcomes DeepSeek

BLOOMBERG January 28

BOTH OPENAL AND Nvidia welcomed the debut of cheaper and less data-hungry DeepSeek's R1 model a day after the Chinese AI startup roiled global stock markets.

Acknowledging DeepSeek as a competitor, OpenAI CEO Sam Altman said it was "invigorating" and promised to accelerate the release of some upcoming products.

Nvidia, the biggest provider of chips used to train AI software, also called DeepSeek's new model an "excellent AI advancement" that complies with US technology export controls.

The Chinese artificial intelligence startup that rocketed to global prominence has delivered an "impressive model, particularly around what they're able to deliver for the price", Altman wrote.

The OpenAI chief, however, seemed to push back on the notion that AI advances in the

However, the chip major added: "Inference requires significant numbers of Nvidia GPUs and high-performance networking." Shares of OpenAI's partner SoftBank Group extended losses, falling 4.7% on Tuesday morning in

Trump says 'a wake-up call'to US, hails low cost

US PRESIDENT DONALD Trump said that Chinese startup DeepSeek's technology should act as spur for American companies and said it was good that companies in China have come up with a cheaper, faster method of artificial intelligence. "The release of

China playbook may deal an even bigger blow to US

GAO YUAN & VLAD SAVOV January 28

THE SUCCESS OF DeepSeek's new AI model points to how China might eventually achieve an even bigger technological breakthrough in the face of US export curbs: Producing its own cutting-edge chips. As tech leaders and politiapparent ability to build an innovative AI model without spending nearly as much as rivals in the US, a development that roiled markets on Monday, the question now is how exactly the Hangzhou-founded company pulled it off — and what it means for American efforts to stay ahead of China in the tech race. While much remains unclear, such as the exact chips DeepSeek used and whether it has enough on hand to further developits AI models, its success highlights some of China's key advantages. The country has a deep pool of highly skilled software engineers, a vast domestic market and government support in the form of subsidies as well as funding for research institutes. It also has a pressing necessity to find a way to do more with fewer resources. "China has an obvious advantage in IT talent, both in terms of the sheer number and labor cost," said Liu Xu, a research fellow at the National Strategy Institute of Tsinghua University, which is helping to spearhead China's AI push. "The biggest resource for China is the country's vast demand — as one of the world's most populous nations and as a gigantic manufacturing hub." In many ways, DeepSeek is an example of China at its best. From Tencent's WeChat to ByteDance's TikTok Chinese developers have crafted world-leading apps for consumers, pioneering new modes of communication and ecommerce along the way. DeepSeek's R1 model is now set to challenge similar products from OpenAI, Alphabet's Google and Meta Platforms.

China, however, is still playing catchup in the hardware space — the main focus of US export controls in recent years. The US has banned China from buying the most advanced AI chips from Nvidia and Advanced Micro Devices Inc. It has also blocked President Xi Jinping's government from obtaining ASML's extreme ultraviolet lithography machines, which are essential to producing high-end chips. Although Chinese companies such as Huawei have made progress in producing AI chips, as of now those parts are less powerful than the ones produced by Nvidia. And the lack of access to high-end chips still poses a major hurdle to China's development.—BLOOMBERG

Wipes off $108 bn of world's richest people

THE WORLD'S 500 richest people, led by Nvidia co-founder Jensen Huang, lost a combined $108 billion on Monday as a tech-led selloff tied to DeepSeek sent major indices plunging. Billionaires whose fortunes are linked to artificial intelligence were the biggest losers: Huang saw his fortune fall $20.1 billion, a 20% drop, while Oracle co-founder Larry Ellison's $22.6 billion loss was larger in absolute terms, but represented just 12% of his fortune, according to the Bloomberg Billionaires Index. Dell's Michael Dell lost $13 billion, and Binance Holdings cofounder Changpeng "CZ" Zhao shaved $12.1 billion. Tech-sectortitans as a group saw $94 billion of wealth evaporate roughly 85% of the Bloomberg index's total decline. The Nasdaq Composite Index fell 3.1%, and the S&P 500 dropped 1.5%.

DeepSeek's dark-horse entry into the AI race, which it says cost just $5.6 million to develop, is a challenge to Silicon Valley's narrative that massive capital spending is essential to developing the strongest models. That delivered a serious blow to billionaires whose fortunes are tied to the Western AI supply chain that's been the equities market's biggest driver over the past two years. —BLOOMBERG

- 2. This Statement, which is the responsibility of the Company's Management and approved by the Company's Board of Directors, has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles laid down in Indian Accounting Standard 34, (Ind AS 34) "Interim Financial Reporting" prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 as amended, read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the Statement based on our review.
- 3. We conducted our review in of the statement in accordance with the Standard on Review Engagement (SRE) 2410, 'Review of Interim Financial Information performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. This Standard requires that we plan and perform the review to obtain moderate assurance as to whether the Statement is free of material misstatement. A review of interim financial information consists primarily of making inquiries of company personnel responsible for financial and accounting matters and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
- 4. Based on our review conducted as above, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying statement prepared in all material respects in accordance with recognition and measurement principles laid down in the aforesaid Indian Accounting Standards (Ind-AS) specified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended, read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, has not disclosed the information required to be disclosed in terms of Listing Regulation, including the manner in which it is to be disclosed, or that it contains any material misstatement.
